More of the Riots.

The reader will find in our columns this morning the details of the riots in the First Ward. go farther. The proof is clear that the polls were taken and kept by an armed mob, that scouts of miscreants were sent out along the streets to beat Germans or Irish, stone their houses, and destroy their property. They met with resistance at last, about noon, on the corner of Shelby and Walnut streets where some foreigners, armed with guns, undertook to defend themselves. Then went forth the yell of distress. Germans were shooting down innocent Americans! The mob collected from all directions, and after routing the Germans from their own houses, they pitched into a brewery, where they destroyed the fixtures, burned up the building, and drank up the liquor, and wanted to burn Whilst these outrages were going on, a mob proceeded along Jefferson street, spreading the lie as they went, that the Germans had taken the polls of the First Ward with guns. It was all a lie, but the guns and the cannon were taken up to the brewery-not to quell the mob, but to make

About this time the editor of the Journal got to the scene, and evidently feit happy at the havoc Sam was making in the frolic he was to take. Here is a part of his doings, as told by himself:

We did what we could by our own personal exertion on Monday to quell the violent feelings prevalent in city. Early in the afternoon we went to the First Wappoils, and, being received with loud acclamations the large crowd there, we addressed a few words to assemblage, carnestly beseeching all our friends to port themselves peaceably, to show themselves guardians of good order, and to let no obstacle befered to any political opponent who wished to receive when the country that the Roman Catholic church in that part of the cro ideration that could touch the human heart, not to ace themselves, their party, and the American c, by the perpetration of such a deed of shame and ny. The Know-Nothings make huge calculations or the gullibility of the people. They profess an inse devotion to all the virtues-social, moral, tical, and religious. Their piety, especially, is a conspicuous element in their platforms. They assume to be the guardians and propagandists of undefiled and orthodox faith in theology. It is made a leading element in their political catechism. Moreover, the instruments by which these high purposes are to be effected, are to be of the most exalted purity. None but men of the most disinterested and patriotic characteristics are to be selected for office. Office-hunters and demagogues are most emphacically denounced.

Such are the pretences they put forth to disruise the objects of their organization, which, in this organization everywhere proves the truth of sixty dollars.

We have seen a rehearsal, and are satisfied that the evening's entertainment will be by far the best of the season Miss Anderson exhibits no little power : she reads well, and enters into the character with spirit, although her voice is somewhat defective

That other favorite of the public, "Mela nie," will appear in The Old Guard, while Haver sack will be rendered as it has very seldom if ever been seen in Louisville. Recording Secretary, pro. tem. NEW MUSIC-A YOUNG COMPOSER, -- We are ery much indebted to our young friend, Charlie Wood, for a copy of "The Old Play-Ground," a ong-words by E. J. Allen, music by Charlie.-This is his first attempt at composing for the public, and we may say with truth, he has produced a piece of music containing many merits, and showing that he possesses talent of a high order; if he properly cultivate it, he will rank high among the sers of this country. The Old Play-Ground is a simple song, with room allowed for display, nor indeed discord. It s one of those ballads designed for the family ircle, and will rank with "Ben Bolt," though not ossessing all the beauties of that parlor favorite. It is not by any means faultless-for though there may be no violation of the rules of composition in the construction of the melody, or the arrangement of the harmony; still, a piece may be faultless: may be wanting in spirit, in flow, in elequence, in feeling, in music. Our young friend's first effort will stand the above test pretty well .-Its melody is pleasing-moves off with considerable spirit, and touches the heart with no little amount of feeling. The prelude, accompaniment and interlude are all exceedingly simple, embodying no difficulties which a scholar of three months annot master after a few trials.

We congratulate our young friend on his succ and the brilliant field before him, full of unexplored beauties and glories; with study and care his future will be one of profit to himself and happiness to the lovers of music.

Later from Texas.

The steamship Mexico, Capt. Lawless, arrived here this morning from Indianola, via Galveston, having left there on the 9th.

From our Texas files we copy the following items of news:

The Civilian learns, through a letter from Velasco, that the Alamo, after crossing the bar on the 3d inst., got ashore on the Velasco Point. On the 4th a portion of her cargo was taken off in good order, and she was hauled nearly into the river. On the morning of the 5th she was nearly half full of water, and found all her cargo wet. The Trinity River is now in good navigable order.

The steamer Jack Hays arrived at Galveston on the 7th inst., with 400 bales of cotton. We learn that Mr. Thomas B. King, a ied by Mr. Morse, an experienced diver, has gone to Brazos Santiago, to make an effort to recover some of the specie lost by the wreck of the steamship Yacht, which occurred some time ago. They are provided with sub-marine armor, and other ap pliances for the enterprise.

The Gonzales Inquirer states that several planters in that county are producing sea island cotton.

There are four hundred and fifty-nine acres plant. ed this season, which the Inquirer thinks will yield better than other cotton. It estimates the pro-duct on many farms at 500 pounds to the acre, A sample of this crop has been compared with some South Carolina sea island, which brought fifty cents per pound last year, and was pronounced but little inferior.

The latest advices concerning the crops say the cotton, in many places, is rotting, in consequence of the wet weather. The seed is sprouting in the ripe bolls, and the young bolls are dropping off. A return of dry weather would put a termination to this damage.

"Hats off! don't you understand! hats off before the palace of the Emperor!" cried the sentinels, and on their refusal to salute the palace of the chief, who was on a visit to the little Goave, the sentinels were about to take them to prison. One of these young marines, seeing they could do nothing against these brutes, demanded that they should be taken before the Governor. He had the good sense to send them to the Consulate.

"The U. S. Consulate is humiliated in a very with the consulation of the consulation of the consulation with the consulation of the consulation with the consulation of the consulation chief, who was on a visit to the little Spain, poor Spain!

"M. de Chacon, Secretary of the Spanish Consu late, was coming out of the Bureau of the Minis-ter for Foreign Affairs, where he had been to solicit or his Consul an audience with the Emperor.

"When he came out he did what everybody els would have done with the thermometer at 100—he put on his hat. Immediately the sentinels called out the insolent cry, 'Hats off!' M. de Chacon refused to salute the bare walls. The same ene, the same noise, the same outrage ensued as in the case of the officers of the Chi now the Emperor appeared at the window, and when he heard what the matter was, he cried out, You white curs, don't you know me? Salute my house or I'll-pat you in prison.' The advisers of His Imperial Highness told him that his orders ould not be executed without the gravest conse uences. It was not, however, until a parley wenty minutes that the soldiers released M. de

The Consul, M. Cruzat, demanded, as full satisfaction, nothing more than that the Emperor should abolish this absurd custom. Not only did this moderation fail to obtain favor in the Cabinet of his Majesty, but instead of attempting to excuse the insult, the diplomatic advisers of the crown wrote to M. Cruzat an awkward, insolent letter, in which, after quoting the very arguments of the letter of the Consul against him, they say that they break off all relations with M. Cruzat, until they shall have obtained from Spain satisfaction

Know-Nothing Withdrawals.
WILKES COUNTY, GA.

TO THE PUBLIC.-We, the undersigned, a portion of whom had previously acted with the Whig, and a portion with the Democratic—but more recently with the Know-Nothing or American party, having as we conceive, under a misguided zeal, joined the latter party, but having retraced and withdrawn from it, take this method of giving some of the asons why we have done so.

1st. We withdraw because of the monstrous ob ligation, which bound us, under a heavy penalty, to support the nominee of the party, however unworthy the candidate or repugnant to our personal feelings.

2d. One of the principles of this party aims a blow at the foundation of true liberty, in proscribing men for conscience's sake.

3d. It is double-faced in several particulars. Its 3d. It is doubte-taced in several particulars. The members profess to stand on the Georgia Platform, whilst they are sworn to make the Union paramount to every contingency, and the two principles are as opposite as midnight and noon.

Again: Now that the dark plans of this mysterious Order are being laid bare to the outside publics what have they disclosed? viz: That the lic, what have they disclosed? viz: That the "upper ten" have not imposed upon them the horrid oath that each and all of us have taken. Language fails to express our disgust and utter contempt for such a monstrous concern. These, with other good reasons, have determined us to leave the party. We will now state the position we occupy in a political view. Principles and not names, shall be our motive for action. We fearlessly assert that we stand on the Georgia platform of 1850, and that each and every one of us will act with, and vote for the Democratic or anti-Know-Nothing candidates at the approaching election in October, laying aside all party feeling which may heretofore have exist-ed, whether Democratic, Whig, Southern Rights, or Union. We are urged to this because we believe the Democratic or anti-Know-Nothing party is the only true National party in existence, and the only ne that will save the Constitution in tact. Thos. H. Strother, Robt. W. Quarles, John G. Strother, A. T. Holliday, Walker Hawes, J. P. McCorp, George Poss, Jas. R. Elliott, Wilks R. Wellborn, Wm. Woodal.

MORGAN COUNTY, Ga., Sept., 1855. We, the undersigned, have become satisfied that it is a duty to ourselves and to the country, to dissolve our connection with the political party com-monly called the Know-Nothing or American party. In leaving the Order, we carry no unkind feeling several Councils of which we have been members, to erase our names from the books, and give us a showing of dismission.

I have used Mr. Solomons' Eye Glass for a very brief period, with decided advantage, and have no hesitation in stating that a defective vision of long standing has been relieved, and the organs seem to be acquiring vigor and tone. I therefore cheerfully bear testimony to their excellency and accuracy, as also to Mr. Solomens'skill as a practical Optician, and the wonderful facility with which he adapts his Glasses to the various peculiarities of vision. HORRID MURDER. - The Sparta Times says that n Wednesday of last week, the wife of Turner G. Loyd was most brutally murdered, on the Cumberand Mountain, about twenty-five miles from Sparta, on the road to Knoxville. It is said she had tarted to ride to a neighbor's, was missed in the vening, and search being made all that night, her ody was found next morning. Her head had been ushed in a most awful manner. Suspicion rest ipon a runaway negro, who came very near being aptured in Sparta, on Tuesday night. He is a rge mulatto, about six feet high-escaped bareeaded and bare-footed, and is said to have a wife Knoxville. We hope that the Governor will offer a large reward for the apprehension of the perpetrator of this awful murder. Our mountain itizens, we know, will be vigilant in bringing the wretch to punishment.

OUTRAGEOUS, IF TRUE .- We heard the other lay that a young boy, an orphan, charged with tealing, was arrested by a set of ruffians, in a por-ion of Calhoun county known as the "Fork," and ost brutually murdered in the following manner exting that the boy was guilty, they attempt-extort a confession by threatening to hang im. All the preliminary steps were taken—thapling bent, the rope adjusted and the threa sapling bent, the rope adjusted and the threats till pending; yet the boy would not acknowledge naving committed the theft. Justabout this time lady happened to be riding near by. On seeing the condition of the boy, she fainted and fell to the round. The men, forgetting the condition of the opy, ran to her assistance, and, of course, the sap-ing flew up, suspending him, and before they ould return to his assistance the horrible deed We don't know how true this is, but f it is so, those who were engaged in it should suf er the full extent of the law Coffeeville (Miss.) Herald. The above furnishes additional evidence of the awlessness of the times. What right had these ruffians, on suspicion of guilt, to murder a boy?f there is any justice in Calhoun county, we shall expect to Lear of the legal but terrible punshment of the fiendish scoundrels.

BOLD ROBBERY BY A WOMAN.—Mr. John Baulch, hatter, No. 37 Chatham street, and Councilman of the Fifth District, was on Wodnesday muleted out of a valuable gold watch, chain and seal, valued at $160. It was, it appears, the revival of an old dodge which from long desuetude was generally supposed to have become obsolete. The facts are these: At the alarm of fire in Gold street, Wednesday, shortly after 1 o'clock, Mr. Baulch, who is one of the Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, left the store to go to the fire he Fire Department, left the store to go to the fire before leaving he handed his watch to the boy in he store, with instructions to give it to his (Mr. B.'s) father. The boy—as Mr. Baulch's father appened to be up stairs at the time—laid the watch, till his return, in a pigeon hole of the desk. A womm, meanwhile, was in the rear part of the store, writing a note—she having previously asked ermission to do so. As Mr. Baulch went out she sked the boy if he would allow her to step to the esk to finish her writing. She was occupied here but a moment or two, when, after express-ng herself greatly thankful for the favor tendered aer, she left the store. She had not been gone over five minutes, when Mr. Baulch returned from he fire, and asked his father, who had then come lown stairs, for his watch. He said he knew noth lown stairs, for his waten. He said he knew nouning about it, when the boy explained the fact of ais having put it in the pigeon-hole of the desk.
Mr. Baulch looked there, but found the watch was missing. The woman, they think, must have taken the property. The boy was unable to describe the woman, other than that she was a middle-aged female, genteelly dressed, very polite and seemed honest.

atterson, of the Battle Ground, gave us the par-iculars of the drowning at Americus, which we mentioned on Tuesday. The name of the mar drowned was Clawson P. Birch. He, in company with Samuel Bacheler and son—a lad about 1: years of age, had been from home nearly a week years of age, had been from home nearly a week, buying stock hogs, and were returning home on Saturday evening, each of them on horseback. They undertook to ford the river, which had rapidly swollen by the heavy rains, causing the horse's to swim. Birch and Bacheler were both thrown from their horses, in the middle of the river—the former, not being able to swim, was drowned. Bacheler, though stunned by a blow from his horse's head, succeeded in reaching the shore, and on looking back for his companions. nore, and on looking back for his companions, iscovered his son clinging to his saddle, his horse eing drowned, and floating down with the current. The father followed on down the beach of the river, encouraging his boy to stick to the saddle, in hopes that he would soon float to shoal water.

The noble little hero did stick to his saddle, sounding the stream with his riding-whip every now and then, for three miles, to find whether the water was sufficiently shallow to justify him in dismounting his dead horse, and wading for shore. Finding the water too deep for him to fathom with his little riding-whip, he would announce the fact to his father, by saying, "I can't touch the bottom yet, Pa." Thus he navigated the "water-logged" craft for three miles, and at last lodged against a tree, and sprang ashore. On taking the bridle from the horse, it was found that it had the lock-jaw, and its mouth had to be pried open to get out the bit. As soon as the mouth of the horse was opened, the carcass sunk to the bottom. But fo the lock-jaw, the body of the horse would not have floated, and to this circumstance, in addition to the little hero's bravery, he is indebted for his life.

A "SPIRITUAL SPRING."—Some account has already been published of the discovery of a very remarkable spring in Henniker, 18 or 20 miles from this city, near the Cantoocook Valley Railroad. It has been made a sort of rendezvous by a number of men and women, who have the desire to "go beyond what is written" and investigate mysteries which God intended they should let alone. We learn that an extra train of cars re-cently passed over the railroad to the Henniker spring, on a Sunday, conveying quite a number of our Concord spiritualists, who have made the de-lusion a sort of religious belief, and established a new sect on their own special account. Over 100 have assembled at this spring, we are credibly informed, for the last few Sabbaths. Verily, the day of humbug, here in New England, seems to have but just commenced!—N. H. Patriot.

R. SOLOMONS; SIR: THE
the benefit I have derived from the Spectacles obtained from you, induces me to express the pleasure I have received from them. They suit my sight to admiration, by candlelight as well as day: I read with the same ease as when a boy, which I could not do with any other glasses I have used. Yours, truly, LOUISVILLE, Dec. 23, 1854.

MR. SOLOMONS: Being compelled to wear Spectacles, I have never been able toget a pair but what made my eyes ache—I have tried a great many glasses, but always failed, until I obtained a pair from you. I can see by day or candlelight for any length of time, with the greatest ease and comfort. Mrs. Wells is very much pleased with her glasses.

I remain yours, truly our street, next dougted Preston.

MR. SOLOMONS: Sir—When you first arrived in this city, I called with Mrs. Beattle at your office, and pur chased four pairs of your Patent Spectacles. We found them superior to any we had ever used before. They realized more than we could have expected. We can now see as comfortably as when a girl and boy.

I now find my sight so much improved by their use, that I can read ordinary newspaper print without them as well as I could before I used spectacles. Corner First and Walnut streets.

MR. SOLOMONS: Dear Sir: Having been depreded the pleasure of reading or writing for the last two years and not having been enabled to procure any spectacle with which I could see any better than without, an which also immediately produced pain and uneasines I was induced, by your advertisement, to call at you office and purchased a pair of your improved spectacle with which I can see to read the finest print with perfecease and comfort; I can also see with the same ease t go about my regular business. MR. SOLOMONS: Having noticed your advertisement in the Louisville and Lexington papers, I called at your office with my wife to purchase for her a pair of your improved spectacles, with which, I am happy to say, she can see to thread the finest needle, (which she has not done before in five years,) or sew and read for any length of time by day or candle-light, as well as she ever could. She has purchased several pairs of spectacles in the last five years, but they invariably caused the eyes to become weak and tired after using for a short time.—No amount would induce her to part with those she purchased from you. A PAINFULLY EXCITING SCENE,-A scene of the ost painful and intense excitement occurred in his town on last Monday morning. At the railthis town on last Monday morning. At the railroad station here, in digging the well, those engaged in the work have encountered a rock, which can only be penetrated by drilling and blasting.
On Monday morning, soon after a very heavy blast of powder in the bottom of the well, which is some forty feet deep, and before the smoke had sufficiently cleared out of the shaft, John Walton jumped into the bucket and started down; but on or before reaching the bottom, finding the sulpueric smell too strong for him, called to those above to draw him up. On arriving, perhaps half way to the top, he became too helpless to hold himself in the bucket, and fell to the bottom of the well. As quick as possible, Norman Arnold rell. As quick as possible, Norman Arnold nded into the well to save Walton; but he, too, Here were three men, in the bottom of a forty-foot pit, and it filled men, in the bottom of a forty-foot pit, and it filled to suffocation with smoke; the men groaning and panting for breath, the water rapidly rising upon them, and they insensible and unable to raise their heads. It looked like instant death to those on the ground to venture down; the alarm was given, and many citizens of the town rushed to the spot: but what could they do? Who was to be the fourth man to make the fearful leap, and risk his own life in an effort to save that of these three men? A step that required more true courage than to fight a dozen duels.
